Parzival is a medieval romance by the knight-poet Wolfram von Eschenbach in Middle High German. The poem, commonly dated to the first quarter of the 13th century, centers on the Arthurian hero Parzival and his long quest for the Holy Grail following his initial failure to achieve it. Parzival begins with the knightly adventures of Parzival's father, Gahmuret, his marriage to Herzeloyde, and the birth of Parzival. The story continues as Parzival meets three elegant knights, decides to seek King A

Parzival - Wikipedia

Raised in the wilderness, Parzival knows nothing of his destiny as the Grail Knight--the one who is fated to seek the sacred vessel of hope and eternal life. To succeed in his quest, Parzival must struggle against countless obstacles. His triumphant story is one that will move readers to joy and despair, laughter and tears.

Parzival begs to be given the Red Knight's armor, and Keie, whose role at court is often to mock and scorn, persuades Arthur to make this gift. It is a trick, of course, to provoke a fight between the foolish looking boy and the Red Knight, but Parzival kills Ither with his hunting spear and takes the red armor for himself.
